H. Voigt, of Holgate. All his company would have had to pay goods at lowest prices. $1,500 to the state. The figures of the Dr. Humphreys' New Specific for actual operating expenses were given at $185,674,72, the repairs at $58,979.16, the loss in linen $19,250 and the wear and tear and the interest make up the rest of the expenses. The expense per car in Ohio was $2,411.46 last year. The Pullman man explained that last year being world's fair year, the figures were all larger than they would be this year or any coming ordinary year. He also said that owing to the prevailing hard times the southern travel had not panned out

The workmen of the company at Pullman are paid each with two checks. One is the amount of his house rent and gas rent and the other is the balance of his earnings. The rent check he immediately paid in at the proper window and the claim of the company against him is settled. This seems to be a sure way for the company and a safe one for the workman.

In the meantime the sleepingcar porter is making more out of the sleepingcar travel than is the state treasury, and upper berths are put down whether occupied or not unless the occupant of the lower berth is willing to be blackmailed out of a double fee for the benefit of the poor sleepingcar company.

The Tax Inquisitor The fight over the bill to abolish the tax inquisitor wound up in a parliamentar i you'll get it. Mary ter centers don't ary tangle that may develop some new procedure for all time to come. For more than 20 years it has been the practice and custom to throw a measure upon the table if a motion to adjourn was carried with said measure pending. Twice in the past fortnight this question has come to the front, and Speaker Boxwell is inclined to hold that practice and custom have been all wrong. He claims that when a motion to adjourn has been amily medicines. All medicines warrant- carried with a bill, resolution or motion pending the same goes to the table only until the same order of business has been reached at the next session, at which time it may be called up by only a majority vote. The practice heretofore has been that such a motion was only proper in the order of resolutions and motions, except by a suspension of the rule, when it takes a two-thirds vote. Mr. Boxwell and many of the members hold that there is nothing in Cushing or the house rules to indicate that a measure would go to the table upon a motion to adjourn carrying. But the fight over the inquisitor bill brought in another element, and Speaker Boxwell is inclined to bring in another innovation. The author of the bill, Captain Felton, was speaking on the measure, and yielded first to a motion to recess, which would still give him the floor when the house came together again, and then he yield-tween an adjournment for the day and a or as agents; providing time to per cour or recess. Yet all legislative bodies make a compensation due may be withheld from a contractor until the contract is completed. has heretofore. At first Mr. Boxwell Should Sleeping, Chair and Dining Cars be Taxed?

Of course if it is not on the calendar it must be somewhere, and that somewhere is the table which catches everything in a parliamentary way that doesn't go anywhere else. It is getting doesn't go anywhere else. It is getting into very interesting shape, and the parness at the hearings on the Hunter bill to liamentarians of both houses are strug-

A senate bill, which passed the upper "all is not gold that glitters," as has long house by a vote of 20 to 0, to compel been understood by most worldy people. | those who have friends in the state institutions and who are able to pay for the maintenance of those friends, or to compel those inmates whose estates are large enough to pay for maintenance, pay into glance it would seem no more than fair work; that is what equals 77 cars were the probability of there being two classes of immates of the state hospitals, in paid inmates and papper inmates. They 1893, were $363,971.16. This amount also insist that the actual revenue from includes all of the local or exclusively this source would not be very large at Ohio business and the Ohio proportion of the most, and not large enough to make interstate business. Every ticket and up for this unfortunate state of affairs every conductor's diagram are supposed which they claim would result. The cases to show favoriteism, allowing those The expenses of operating these 77 cars, to enter institutions free who ought to including not only maintenance, but also pay and making those pay who ought to depreciation in the cars, the interest on go in free, and the result would be that scandals would result sooner or later. It is altogether likely that the bill will not have as clear sailing as it did in the senate, though it may pull through. Yet there are probably not a dozen members of both houses who wouldn't be pauper insane in case they became insane, under the provisions of such an act. How Shall It be Raised?

Many members are forever preaching indirect taxation as a proper means of raising state revenue, thus being able to reduce the state levy, but in the end having greater revenues, but every time a method of indirect taxation is suggested somebody's toes are tread upon and the plan fails. This was illustrated the other day in the house. A bill to tax deeds, mortgages and leases $1 each when filed with the county recorder, 75 per cent of which to go into the state treasury. This would result in a large immediate revenue for the state, the very thing that is now needed. The ordinary taxpayer and the poor man would not be affected by this law, but the scare cry went up and over went another indirect taxation method. A bill is now being prepared to compel all state and count officers to pay the secretary of state & each for their commissions. This will

little helps this year.

A bill has been introduced to increase the tax levy three-tenths of a mill for three years for the purpose of creating a state construction fund, out of which the three new institutions now under con-struction could be finished. In addition to this the much needed buildings at the Wooster Experiment farm and the new hospital at the Sandusky Soldiers' home introduced more to call the attention of the house and senate to the necessities of the case than to force its passage until all other means of raising revenues have failed. The appropriation bills are barely inside the revenues, and at the beginning of the appropriation year, Feb. 15, there were $466,000 of last year's appropriations still hanging on. It has seemed impossible to keep the appropriation bills for actual necessities more than $50,000 inside the revenues. This means that the appropriations thus far made, or to be made under the regular bills, are for expenses that will take up the money during the current year.

Bread and butter must be bought salaries must be paid as the year progresses. Most of the $166,000 will also have to be paid, as those who have these appropriations under control know that if they don't use the money during the corrent year the appropriations will lapse. Thus it looks as if the state would have to pay out from $350,000 to $400,000 more this year than it will take in. There is a chance of getting $33,000 that is now tied up in law cases before the supreme court, which, if the state gets it, will help out just that much.

The trouble does not come so much from immediate causes as it does from the habit the state began to get into 10 or 11 years ago. Nearly a million dollars more was appropriated one year current year the appropriations will lapse. Thus it looks as if the state lars more was appropriated one year than was taken in, and from that day to this the state has been staggering. This over appropriation has been indulged in somewhat ever since, and the attempt of the state to build new institutions out of the general revenue funds, most of ti time insufficient for its purposes, has brought about a most deplorable state of Hood's Sarsaparilla a Codsend to A Whole Family.

C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.; "Gentlemen-My mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Wolfe, at the age of 72 years, was attacked with a violent form of salt rheum; it spread all over her body, and her hands and limbs were dreadful to look at. At the same time, my little daughter Clara, who was just one year old, was attacked by a similar disease, like scrofula. It appeared in the form of large sores under each side of her neck; had the attendance of the family physician and other doctors for a long time, but seemed to grow worse. A little book fell into my hands, in which were numerous testimonials from people who had been

Cured of Scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla. As soon as we gave Hood's Sarsaparilla to Clara, she began to get better, and before the first bottle was gone, the sores entirely healed up and there has never
